Tribunal has no jurisdiction besides present petition is premature. The petitioner has not explained absence period and opted to approach the court. Moreover he was not terminated and only asked to explain his absence period. Besides he is not a workman under I. D Act as Section 25-F of I. D Act, 1947 speaks about workman and not of an employee of the Trust. It is further stated that the respondent did appear before ALC, filed detailed reply and objections to the said notice.

6. The controversy between the parties is that the respondent employer unlawfully without conducting an enquiry terminated the service of the petitioner Khazan Singh on the basis of absence from duties and even the conciliation proceedings culminated into failure. Consequently present petition challenging verbal termination order date 18-07-2017 came to be filed. Parties did appear, presented their submissions.
7. Heard Parties. Meticulously perused record. The petitioner appeared in the witness box in the shape of affidavit but was not subjected to cross examination by respondent. Hence his evidence goes un rebutted. The respondents also in their reply to the petitioner filed affidavit wherein it is categorically stated that the written notice dated 15-07-2017 was served to the petitioner. Besides attendance register is maintained of technical/non-technical staff of the institution, therefore plea of fabrication of record does not sustain being a white lie. Besides the petitioner was given another chance in writing vide communication no. 24-07-2017 to report for duties but he did not reported for duties as he was engaged somewhere else. It is further contended that the respondent trust is a charitable one and is not an industry hence the present petition is liable to be dismissed for want of jurisdiction U/S 2-A of I. D Act, 1947. Respondent also placed on record extracts of Attendance Sheets as well as copy of notices dated 24-07-2017.
8. Heard. The respondents again reiterated in their response that the petitioner was not terminated and his application is premature besides the respondent is a research institute, Sh. Sain Charitable Trust for Higher Education and Research and therefore is not an industry

Thus no inference can be drawn that the petitioner was verbally terminated by the repondent which is liable to be set aside. Record reveals that there is no proof of termination order except notice issued to petitioner for reporting duties. Besides on petitioner's own saying that there was one year service break from May, 2014 to June, 2015 but even in that time, also no gratuity was given hence question of setting aside order of alleged termination order does not arise. But the petitioner/workman is held entitled to be adequately compensated, hence he is entitled to back wages and required to be suitably compensated, Honorable Apex Court, has in such a situation held that compensation is the rule and reinstatement is only an exception otherwise also much water has flown since 2018 when he was unlawfully terminated from the service on 18-07-2017 as per record and it would not be order for his reinstatement. Reference may be made to Honorable Apex Court judgement in Rashtasant Tukdoji Maharaj vs. State of Maharashtra, 08th April, 2020.

12. At the time of alleged termination, he was getting Rs. 10,000/- per month, It is directed that the respondent shall pay to the petitioner/workman an amount equivalent to Rs. 10,000/- per month. He shall also be entitled to compensation from the time when he was ousted from his job and was litigating before different forums hence the respondent shall pay an amount of Rs. 50,000/- as compensation. Both the issues are decided accordingly. Hence this Tribunal has jurisdiction to entertain this petition and the petitioner is also held entitled to compensation and other allowances under rule if any. The reference is answered accordingly. Award may be forwarded to the Government Press for publication under rules. File shall be completed in all respects and be consigned to records.

Allegedly the petitioner frequently went on duty i, e on 23rd January, 2017, 24th January, 2017, 25th January, 2017 respectively but the Principal of the said school kept him outside the school gate even in rains up to 12 noon with malafide intention and did not allow him to enter the school gate. It is further the case of the petitioner that he again went to duty on 27th January, 2017 and on 28th January, 2017 but was not allowed to join by the Principal of the said school. Consequently a complaint was filed to ALC, Jammu on 30th January, 2017 with a request that Principal DPS School, Nagbani be asked to take him back on duty, but despite visit of Labour Officer in the School personally the management did not attend his office and notices were issued by ALC to the Principal of the said school for appearance before ALC along with record on 9th February, 2017. Even Labour Officer reported to ALC, Jammu on 22nd February 2017 that the Principal has refused to take the petitioner on duty and subsequently a dispute was raised by the petitioner with respondent employer before the Conciliation Officer under the provisions of ID Act, 1947 under Section 2A(2)b(Amendment Act, 2010) and on 06-04-2017 Conciliation proceedings were conducted but despite much endeavour the settlement could not be reached and conciliation proceedings failed and then further at the request of the petitioner, the Conciliation Officer granted a certificate enabling the petitioner for approaching to this Industrial Tribunal cum Labour Court for adjudication of the dispute under Section 2A(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act vide notification E-No-5-110-12/1/2017.

Allegedly the respondent without following any provisions of law, illegally terminated services of the petitioner on 10-01-2017, despite the fact that he was continuously in service w. e. f. 09-11-2004 to 09-01-2017.

Award/Judgment

Synopsis of the case,

On being reference made by the Government of Jammu and Kashmir, Labour and Employment Department vide SRO-185 of 19-06-2008 for adjudication of dispute between aforesaid parties, for adjudication on the following two issues :ó

1. Whether the termination of services of Sh. Karan Singh is legally justified?
2. If not, to what relief he is entitled?

The matter as projected through this claim petition before this Tribunal can be precisely be adumbrated thus :ó

The petitioner/applicant is seeking release of wages from the respondent Corporation for performing his duties as Chowkidar against a monthly payment of Rs. 1500/-. It is the case of the petitioner that the respondent Corporation purchased a land from one Captain -Murthyø for developing a Housing Colony in the year 2001-2002 and the petitioner/applicant was appointed as Chowkidar along with one Hoshiyar Singh against Rs. 1500/- Salary, which was however enhanced from Rs. 1500/- to Rs. 2000/- per month and it was paid up to January, 2007.

It is further the case of the applicant that the respondent withheld his salary thereafter i.e. after January, 2007 but Hoshiyar Singh, his counterpart, was being paid salary on regular basis. Besides, the applicant was not allowed to mark his attendance after December, 2007, in the register maintained by the respondent. Moreover he was not informed whether his services were terminated. Therefore, the applicant/petitioner is presumably performing his duties till date.

The applicant/petitioner has further pleaded that he is entitled for wages @ Rs. 2000/- per month from the month of January, 2007 plus enhanced salary as being paid to the other Chowkidar serving in the Corporation of the opposite party.

The respondents in their response have denied the allegations leveled against them also. Besides denied the fact that applicant was ever their employee. It is stated herein by respondents that he was simply engaged as labourer by the Corporation on monthly payment and subsequently he was disengaged as his services were no more required by the respondent.

The tangible case of the respondent is that petitioner was neither daily nor casual worker but was engaged on just need basis hence is not entitled to any amount and his services were no more required. Besides he is not a workman for the purposes of the Act.

Parties filed their evidence affidavit. The respondent Corporation also besides affidavit of Managing Director filed affidavit of Sh. Sunil Koul, Inspector, J&K Housing Corporation, wherein it is denied that the petitioner was ever appointed as a Chowkidar but was only engaged as labourer for some days on need basis and was never appointed as regular/casual worker of the opposite party. The respondents have taken a stand that services of the petitioner/claimant were temporary and in January, 2006 the land purchased by the Corporation fell in dispute and the work was stopped and subsequently temporary engagement of the claimant was ended.

In rebuttal, the petitioner besides filing his own affidavit has filed affidavit of Sh. Kheru Ram S/o Sain Dass, Age 70 years, who has supported version of Karan Singh only partly. He has further deposed that wages of Karan Singh have been withheld while terminating his services without following legal recourse. Even Karan Singh, the petitioner on affidavit has deposed that he was appointed along with Hoshiyar Singh as Chowkidar for the watch and ward of the said land and the respondent Corporation in the year January, 2007 did not release the salary in favour of the deponent and informed the deponent that he was discharged but his wages have not been released. Additionally, he has proposed that the respondent shall pay Rs. 48000/- per month between January, 2007 and December, 2008 @ Rs. 2000/- per month and Rs. 50000/- as compensation on account of mental agony and harassment and Rs. 3,60,000/- @ Rs. 2000/- per month from January, 2009.

Heard :

Considered respective submissions. After hearing both sides and consideration of material on record and after careful perusal of evidence on record, it transpires that the petitioner was never engaged as Chowkidar for watch and ward for land and he worked with the respondent for plenty of times as there is no document placed on record in this regard. Though respondents in their affidavit have denied the fact that the petitioner was ever engaged as a Chowkidar but added that he was engaged as a labourer on need basis only and was subsequently disengaged. It is further contended herein that services of the claimant were purely temporary.

Respondent reiterated that petitioner was simply engaged as a labourer on the site and was never appointed as regular/casual worker of the opposite party. It is further contended herein that services of the claimant were purely temporary and in January, 2006 the land purchased by the Corporation fell in dispute and the Corporation was forced to stop the work at the site. On cross examination also, Sh. Bharat Bhushan, Managing Director deposed that there was no attendance register in respect of the claimant as he was not regular employee of the Corporation. He further deposed that the petitioner along with Hoshiyar Singh was working in Bhalwal as worker/labourer and were getting wages and now even Hoshiyar Singh is not working with the Corporation. So nothing is due to the petitioner now as he was being paid as per work done. Sh. Sunil Koul, respondent's witness has corroborated the statement of Sh. Bharat Bushan, Managing Director. He too deposed in the witness box in the shape of affidavit. It has come in his statement that the claimant was simply working as a labourer for some days on need basis. In that month he was being paid as per wage engagement.

Now the moot question before us is :

Whether the termination of services of Sh. Karan Singh is legally justified and to what relief he is entitled to?

As the case goes, precisely stating there is voluminous documentary evidence evincing that the petitioner was engaged on need basis only and was never employed as daily wager/casual worker, hence question of termination of service does not arise. Regarding next issue i.e. whether petitioner is entitled to any relief in this regard.

I shall address each point vehemently agitated by the parties. In the first place, the most canvassed and pivotal point of discussion is whether the petitioner was appointed as Chowkidar and was a workman and not a labourer on need basis. In this regard, there is ample evidence on file that respondent only engaged petitioner as a labourer on need basis who was subsequently disengaged when work was stopped regarding which there is no demurer by the petitioner. His stand is only that he has worked till 2007 as Chowkidar for watch and guard but his sole witness Kheru Ram S/o Sain Dass also denied that he has even filed affidavit. In his deposition, he only deposed, that he knows Karan Singh, the petitioner, who was working with the Corporation. The onus to prove that the petitioner's services was not on need basis but he was under employment of Corporation, but he miserably failed to prove so, suffice it would be to say that rendering a need based service on monthly basis, employee does not ipso facto gets an indefeasible right to be a regular employee and this is no more res integra.

In view of the above this Tribunal finds no substance in the petitioner's argument that the respondents ought to have paid his salary for the period he was working as such, the argument is repelled. The petitioner has argued that he is entitled to compensation and back wages as well. Since issue No. 1 is decided against him as he was never terminated by respondents being not in the employment but was just engaged as a labourer on need basis, hence he is not entitled to any wages as well as compensation.

Thus the reference, whether termination of petitioner is legal or not is accordingly answered in favour of the respondent.

Resultantly, as it has been held that the petitioner's engagement on need basis as a labourer was for a limited period on monthly basis, hence is not entitled to any relief as sought for through claim petition. Therefore, the reference is accordingly answered. Thus the award may be published accordingly.
